anh to The Times. Sr. Louis, May 13 .- [By the Associa ted Press.] The river at 7 p.m. passed the danger line and is still rising. The situation all along the river front grows worse hourly. Wiggins's transfer yards are from two to ten feet under water. The switchmen stand neckdeep to throw the switches and engines push loaded cars with long trains of empties between them and the engines in order to keep in shallow water and prevent the extinguishing of the fires. The Farmers' elevator is now 600 yards in the river, but is in little danger. By the gas works the banks are caving in and 1,000,000 bushels of coke is threatened. Arsenal Island is washing away rapidly. More or less other minor damage has been done or is threatened, but so far the greater portion of injury to business, etc., comes from hindrance rather than actual damage.

An Association Formed for Improving the MEMPHIS (Tenn.,) May 13.-[By the Associated Press.] A new era in im-provements of the Mississippi River has come in the birth today of the Misa permanent organization composed of the most prominent engineers and capitalists of the Mississippi Valley and whose object is to cooperate with the National Mississippi River Construction Association and urge on Construction Association and urge on Congress the necessity of carrying out bromptly the recommendations of that body. The intention is that the improvement and perpetuation of this great American waterway shall be no longer left to the work of local agitation or the "irresponsibility of sectional demands." The idea in substance is that the improvement shall be pressed before Congress until it has run the gauntlet of scientific examination and approval. As outlined in the proceedapproval. PESTII, May 13.—[By Cable and Asso ciated Press. An immense waterspout burst today in the neighborhood of the collierles situated at 'Fuenfkirchen in the county of Baranye. A huge volume of water inundated the surrounding country and poured into the mines causing terrible loss of life. The water poured into the mines so quickly that the unfortunate men received no warning of their danger. The water ros rapidly, and in a short time every avenue of escape was shut off and the men perished miserably.

It is known that twenty-two men are dead in one pit, and many others lost their lives at different points. The men who lost their lives were working in the lower levels. Some miners escaped, and they, with the assistance of those who flocked to the mouths of the pits, went to the rescue of the men in the flooded levels. As the news of the catastrophe spread immense crowds hastened to the scenes and the entrance to each pit was soon surrounded by surging and wildly excited crowds of women and children The lamentations of those who had relatives or friends in the mines were heartrending, and many pitiful scenes were witnessed.

Some bodies have been already recovered and the work of rescue is being steadily carried on. Every effort to pump the water out of the flooded levels is being made.

The Brazilian President's Message RIO JANEIRO, May 18.—After nine days' failure to secure the attendance of the legal number of representatives a quorum was secured in Congress to-day and the transaction of business at once commenced. The President's message deals mainly with the recent uprising in the State of Matto Grosso and the question of the election of a new president is left unchanged. Al-though the President asks for currency reforms he offers no suggestions to the desired end. The message is generally regarded as unsatisfactory.

Enforcing Federal Conspiracy Laws. CHICAGO, May 13.—Abraham Fell of Buffalo, agent of the Wabash and Lack wanna fast freight line, has been in dicted for conspiracy by the Federal grand jury. The case is the outgrowth of recent investigations which resulted in the indictment of the packing firm of Swift & Co., for receiving rebates on freight from the Lackawana. It is alleged that a rebate of 5 cents per hundred was paid A. R. Faye, agent of Swift & Co., under the guise of a commission. This is the first case where the Federal conspiracy laws have been made to apply against railroad officials for violation of the interstate commerce law. The penalty is much severer than under the latter, being a fine of not less than $5000, or imprisonment at hard labor in the penitentiary in the indictment of the packing firm of ment at hard labor in the penitentiary for not less than two years.

Free Coinage Men at Washington Anxious That "Gold Bugs" Shall Not Be Selected to Represent the United States.

By Telegraph to The Times,
WASHINGTON, May 13.—[By the Associated Press.] The President has received from Italy and Austria acceptances of the invitation to participate in the international monetary conference. The acceptance of Italy is especially pleasing to the administration as on account of its position as head of the Latin Union it will influence the remaining nations to join the conference. It is now positively known that invitations were forwarded to all European powers were forwarded to all European powers except Turkey.

Some talk is caused by the fact that replies to these invitations are slow in coming. This delay is caused by the fact that the invitations were sent by mail instead of by cable, as intended. The replies from the remaining nations will probably be received shortly. The belief of those best acquainted with the progress of the negotiations is that the international monetary conference will international monetary conference will convene about the 1st of July.

Free Coloage Men Trains Their Side Should be Fully Represented.

New York, May 13.—[By the Associated Press.] A Washington dispatch says: "Moderate silver men in Congress are very well pleased with the progress made toward an international monetary conference, and accept it as an earnest of the sincerity of the administration. However, in order to make the conference of any advantage the President must appoint men friendly to silver as delegates on behalf of the United States. There are to be five, and the silver men argue that this and the silver men argue that this number will give ample opportunity for representation of the various views. They are not disposed to insist that the delegates shall represent the extreme free coinage views as held in the United States, but believe that they should be sincere friends of bi-metalism, not "gold bugs" either openly or in disguise. The appointment of men bitterly opposed to the coinage of silver under any conditions would, the silver men say, make the monetary conference a farce and deprive it of any usefulness, and of popular support. They admit that the President can ask gentlemen and of popular support. They admit that the President can ask gentlemen to serve without asking the approval of the Senate, but believe that it would be more in harmony with the spirit of our institutions and would strengthen the delegates and the conference if it were known that the delegates appeared with the sanction of the Senate. If the names of men of moderate views are sent to the Senate the silver men say there will be no opposition to their Financial papers are discussing the ratio between silver and gold in the event of an international agreement being reached. Experts H. R. London, May 13.—In the House of Commons, in reply to a question whether the British delegates to the silver conference called by the United States would be permitted to treat the adoption by England of bi-metalism as as open question, Goschen, Chancellor of the Exchequer, said it would be contrary to precedent to prematurely disclose the instructions to delegates. It was a fact, however, that the government had not yet precisely decided what instructions would be given.

[Exchange.]

The archæology of South America is to have a competent investigation, through the liberality of some of New York's most prominent citizens. America and the Heminway archæological expedition, and has thus examined the old Spanish missions documents and the annals of the kingdom of Spain, pertaining to its dominion in New Spain from the Columbian period. The archæology of South America has been studied but little. The impenetrable forests of its trophical belt, its great water courses, its extensive marshes and the nomadic character of the Indian tribes now occupying these regions, have prevented careful explorations. The earliest discoveries of pre-Columbian ruins were made on the western coast. Ecuador, Peru and Bolivia Columbian ruins were made on the west-ern coast. A Passport to the Immortal City.

[Hebrew Standard.]

A curious custom of the Greek Church was illustated at the funeral the other day of the young Grand Duchess Paul of Russia. Before the coffin was closed the Metropolitan placed a written paper in the hand of the corpse, which read:

"We, by the grace of God, prelate of the Holy Russian Church, write this to our master and friend, St. Peter, the gatekeeper of the Lord Almighty. We announce to you that the servant of the Lord, Her Imperial Highness, the Grand Duchess Paul, has finished her life on earth, and we order you to admit her into the kingdom of Heaven without delay, for we have absolved all her sins and granted her salvation. You will obey our order on sight of this document, which we put into her hand."

A Powerful Sermon by Evangelist Mills.

The Height of Eloquence Reached by the Gifted Preacher.

A Stirring Appeal to All to Confess the Master.

Three Hundred "Sermons" Preached by the Congregation in Fifteen minute

—The Service Closed by a Prayer of Thanksgiving

Tabernacle is ended; the laborers rest today from active toil, and they have well earned that rest. I have no how many converts have been made, but I do know that the am good-fellowship which these meetings have developed has paid for all the toil, even if no stranger has entered the

What is it that has enabled Messrs. Mills and Greenwood to accomplish what they have done? (I include the same of Mr. Greenwood, because he sannot in justice be left out of a record of the work done.) Mr. Mills has preached no new doctrine; Mr. Greenwood has sang no new words of praise and yet the spirit which they have invoked has moved as it has never before moved in Los Angeles. My old friend, Dr. P. H. Jameson of Indiana, who has been an active Christian for forty years, said to me: "God has appointed Mills as a spiritual physician to apply a stimulant in cases where there is spir-itual constitution sufficient to build noral reformation upon, and when that stimulant is taken the soul is restored to health."

When the work of the evangelist is completed, a summary can be made of results as they appear to the public, but while he is here, and while the spirit of God moves his congregation, the student of psychic conditions, if not of Christian work, cannot satisfy him self without attending one or more of the few meetings which are to be held under the present arrangements.

A movement is on foot among the clergymen of the city to secure results far more wide-reaching than was contemplated at the outset. The army will be mobilized, a plan of campaig made into the territory of the enemy, and when they encamp there, they will build such fortifications as will enable them to hold all the ground they gain.

JAYHAWKER.

THE CLIMAX REACHED.

Evangelist Mill's Powerful Sermon Las Evening—Substantial Results. Evangelist Mills reached the height of eloquence last night in his sermon "Who is on the Lord's Side?" It is saf to say that never before in this city has the gospel been preached with such fervor, eloquence and power. He who was not moved, at least with admiration, if one may use so cold a term, must be entirely incapable of appreciating the brilliancy of oratorical genius. most cultured and critical could but listen in rapt wonder, while the youngest and most ignorant could but understand and apply the words of him who spoke as if he were indeed inspired and his lips anointed with God's own power. One was impressed as never before with the scholarly genius of the man as he rose to the sublime heights of eloquence, carrying the vast assemblage with him.

"The custom of asking people to stand up and confess Christ is not a modern one," he said. "It began with Moses and Joshua and Effigha and John the Baptist and Jesus Christ himself. It has come to be a very important question to the people in this city. The man who practically acknowledges God surrenders his entire will to Him. He acknowledges the Bible as God's book by putting its teachings into practice. Sir Walter Scott said 'the only argument against the Bible is a wicked life,' and as he lay dying he said to Lockactically acknowledges God's son as "A man is on the Lord's side when he practically acknowledges God's son as God's Son and his own personal Savior. I believe there is something wrong with that man who does not acknowledge Jesus Christ as the son of God."

Taking his Bible in his hand the gifted preacher quoted passage after passage proving the absolute divinity of Christ, and dealt some sledge-hammer blows at the fallacy of the doctrine which says 'He is not divine.' His three-cornered questions on this subject would challenge the eloquence or argument of the most learned divine on record. "Even such a man as Col. Ingersoll," he said, has said, 'To that great and serene man I gladly pay the homage of my admiration and my tears.' Walk with Jesus Christ, if you will, in the belief that He was not divine. Learn the secret of love to God and love to your neighbor. Love Him simply because He was a good man till you find yourself transformed by His love, and one day you will cry out 'and now, Lord, show us the father,' and you will hear the answer, 'Have I been so long time with you and ye have not known me?' You will begin to realize that He bas even been revealed to you through Jesus Christithe Son and you will fall pryone none—of these things," listening with the most eager earnestness to the words of the evanuelist, as if he would drink in all the encouragement and hope and faith that could be given him, and when the services were ended he said to me, while a smile lighted up his face, "I do enjoy these meetrings."

Then another thing that I saw was a little boy with blue eyes and a face beautiful with its look of boyish innoceace, writing his name upon one of the cards passed by the ushers and declaring by that act that he was desirous of beginning a Christian life. He was a solder of the cross. "Of such is the kingdom of heaven."

Then I looked away from him and I saw a middle-aged woman, plainly clad, but with a face that, was fairly illuminated with gladness. She evidently had not much of this world's goods, but there was no doubt that she h been revealed to you through Jesus Christithe Son and you will fall prone on your face before Him and cry out, My father and my God. one man, a stranger, said to me, "I haven't been to these meetings before, but I think I shall come again." He had heard truths that had made him hunger for eternal life.

Said another, "I just begin to realize that if men are not saved it is for no other reason than that they are not willing to be saved. They may not object to the happiness of heaven, but thing in life and lift it up into the transforming beauty of God.

"The man who is on the Lord's side will stand by the church—the only thing that abides. There was a town in Minnesota founded by infidels. They hung the Son of God in effigy and said they would have a town without a church. The Indians came down upon them; a fire followed and then a cyclone struck the town; debauchery and lust were rampant and they sent for a missionary. Today there are four churches there and the town is saved. Property wouldn't be worth having here in Los Angeles if it were not for the church of Christ. It is the safe guard of purity and the security of human life.

"Unbelieving brother, borne down on the tide of pride and passion, spread all your sails to catch the breeze to waft you into the kingdom. I am on God's side because it is the safe side."

At the close of the sermon Mr. Mills announced that, as it was the last service to be held in the Simpson Andipreached, and gave all those who wished an opportunity to go, requesting those who remained not to leave till the close. When order was restored it was found that both the arst and second auditoriums were yet filled and a large number remained in the top gallery. The evangelist then announced that he wanted everybody who was on the Lord's side to rise up, one after another, and say so, giving one reason why, each sermon to be limited to ten seconds. The testimoniels began to pour in, seven speaking at once on the start. About 800 "sermons" were thus preached by the congregation in fifteen minutes.

A large number indicated their desire to be Christians, and a season of sentence prayers, followed by a prayer of thanksgiving from the evangelist closed the services of the week.

Today there will be the business men's prayer-meeting at Y.M.C.A. hall at 9 a.m., and the women's prayer-meeting at 2:30 in the English Lutheran Church. No other services will be held.

The sermon was from Genesis xiii: 2-12. Mr. Mills drew a sharp comparison between the lives of Abraham and Lot. Lot selected the plains to the east of Jordan, toward Soudan, and in time removed to the city and soon entered politics, where he became mayor of the city. He made acquaintances, no friends in the sense of the loyalty which the followers of Abraham held for him. But Lot at first made money, or property. People who have no money want it, hoping to do good with it. But they aever find time to use it, as they had hoped to before its acquaintance. Politics leads to bad company. What must have been the feelings of these professed Christians; were they not vexed by the conduct of the ungodly. The might and the power of the gospel of divine truth! There are a good many people who are just beginning to realize something about it for the first time. There is nothing like it to make men humble. Nothing like it that can search out the thoughts and the inter-ests of the heart and make us realize what we really are. It rubs off all the by putting its teachings into practice. Sir Walter Scott said 'the only argument against the Bible is a wicked life, and as he lay dying he said to Lockhart, 'Reach me the book,' 'what book, Sir Walter?' asked Lockhart. 'There is but one Book,' the dying man made answer.

LIFE IN COUNTRY AND IN CITY.

There is nothing more over estimated than the advantages of living in a city. Here in America, and especially in the East, there is a dangerous tendency to congregate in cities More men and women are needed in the country, for women are needed in the country, for ballast. They must be primarily the producers. That country which has no good farmers, and many of them, is un-fortunate indeed, and may well devote itself to devising schemes for ridding its urban communities of the sur perflous persons. In the beginning of America this was not the case. A man was very proud at that time to be a country gentleman. Almost all of the men who did the most work in the troublous time of the formation of this troublous time of the formation of this Commonwealth had farms and lived upon them a part if not all of the year. But now there has come about a foolish dislike to such a life among men of ability; and among farmers there has come another equally foolish prejudice—the dislike of being looked upon as a gentleman. These two things operate together to take from farming much of the fascination that would otherwise attach to it. The countrymen do not live in an atmosphere of aspiration. attach to it. The countrymen do not live in an atmosphere of aspiration. They look upon a man as a dude if he blacks his boots or wears a linen collar. They scorn every attempt at elegance, and appear to think nicety of speech contemptible. Whatever beautifies the and appear to think nicety of speech contemptible. Whatever beautifies the body or the address they appear to think affection. All this is wrong. If farming life were made more agreeable, ambitious and fastidious young men raised in the country would not shrink from it as they do and make for the cities as soon as they are released from parental rule. The poetry has been put out of life in the country by so many mistaken ideas, both on the part of those who live in the cities and those who till the fields. A little more pride of condition would not be amiss among the men and women on the farms. Robert Ingersoll said something characteristic on this subject the other day. It is absolutely true. It has in it not only the voice of the poet but the voice of the American.

"It is no advantage to live in a city where poverty degrades and failure brings despair. The fields are lovelier than paved streets, and the great forests of oaks and elms are more poetic than steeples and chimneys. In the country is the idea of home. There you see the rising and setting sun; you become acquainted with the stars and clouds. The constellations are your frienns. You hear the rain on the roof and listen to the rhythmic sighing of the winds. You are thrilled by the resurfrienns. You hear the rain on the took and listen to the rhythmic sighing of the winds. You are thrilled by the resurrection called spring, touched and saddened by autumn—the grace and poetry of death. Every field is a picture, a or death. Every head is a poem; every flower a tender thought, and every flower a tender thought, and every forest a fairy land. In the country you preserve your identity—your personality. There you are an aggregation of atoms; but in the city you are only an atom of an aggregation."

WHITE MEN MADE BLACK.

The Discovery Made by a Youny Che of Jersey City. [New York World.] A young chemist and electrician, lives in Jersey City, entertained a few of his friends some nights ago with a bit of legerdemain that Herrman himself might be proud of. Seating one of the company in the middle of the room, the chemist procured a mysterious look-ing black wand which he began to wave about the head of his subject. The face, neck and hands of the subject, who was of very light complexion, in-stantly began to grow darker and darker until they were a very dark

After the astonishment of the spectators had subsided the young chemist explained that his magic was but the result of a very difficult chemical reaction that he had been working to obtain for over a year. He had washed the face, neck and hands of the subject with a transparent solution. Under his own arm he had concealed a small rubber bag of gas, which was connected by a rubber tube with the black wand, itself a hollow tube, so that while waving the wand he had ejected the gas. As soon as the gas came in contact with the solution on the skin a dark brown compound resulted from the reaction. Mr. Walters got the idea of his invention while watching the transformation tricks in one of the Hanlon plays. His first experiment he made on the face of a young German. It worked perfectly as far as coloring the would not wash off and the Germanspent several unhappy days trying to war it off. But now Walters has worked on his compound until it will wash off more easily than cork black. A number of minstrel and theatrical companies are negotiating with him for the exclusive use of the trick. Mr. Walters is also working on preparations to turn a black man white, a white man red and a red man white, a white man red and a red man white. brown.

MET WITH DISASTER.

The Rise and Fall of Levy as a Pitcher.

The Faithful Reuben Comes to Grief in Four Innings.

Uncle's Young Men Again Defeated by a Score of 13 to 8.

Experiments With Disastrons Results-A Game of Baseball -

Uncle Henry Harris, ex-secretary o the California League and manager of the Bay City ball club, tried a couple of experiments yesterday, both of which proved disastrous. Since the Balsz case came up Uncle has been troubled. To see the young "phenom" picked up right from under his very nose almost drove him into melancholia, and then to lose his official position because he tried to land the young man outside of of doing things in the eyes of the man whose hat and shoes have covered pretty much all of the California League for several years past.

And so Uncle experimented with a "phenom" himself yesterday. It was Rube Levy. Reuben has been in Uncle's fold for the past ten years, and lately Prof. Jack Fanning was his instructor and having inished his apprenticeship night before last Ruben vesterday afternoon stepped into the box and began to work off some of his expected raise in salary.

If Uncle had remained on the bench alongside his young men things might have gone differently. But he occupied a seat in the grand stand along with his feet and Prof. Fanning, and viewed the combat from afar, as it were. He did this partly because there was more ground space in the stand than there was around the bench, and partly because he wanted to be out of reach of THE TIMES' artist; the quantity of Uncle's modesty is exceeded only by that of his feet, but he will probably waive personal feeling hereafter and go where duty calls him. It was plain that his absence was mourned by his young men yesterday, for they played a game that would have shamed Jim Morley's recent aggregation into a mending escombat from afar, as it were. He did that would have snamed Jim Moriey's recent aggregation into a mending establishment to be patched up. They hit the ball hard, but little Sweeney and Hanley played football with everything that came within reach, while Pete Sweeney and Sharp contributed their quota to swell the last column. Even Reitz let in a run on an overthrow to second, while the work of Spies, Pee-ples and Brittan stood out in bold re-lief.

Glenalvin rearranged his batting or der when it was announced that Levy's big left arm was to twirl for Uncle. Stafford led off, but was an easy out at first. Then Hasamaear waited for four poor ones and Wright was hit by a pitched ball. Newman flew out and Treadway singled. McCauley followed with another, and with the aid of errors by Danny Sweeney, Hanley and Pete Sweeney, four men scored.

Danny Sweeney opened the visitors' half with a two-hagger. The next two one that was too hot for Levy. A minute later Rube thought to catch the "Kid" napping. It might have worked if Reuben had first taken his bearings. But after playing left field for ten years it is a hard matter to throw a short distance with the Levy should be the control of tance and the ball that Levy plunked over in the direction of first base didn't over in the direction of first base didn't stop until it struck the fence back of the bleachers, while the "Kid" pranced gaily around the entire circuit. Then Levy gave Stafford four poor ones. This was too much for Uncle. More in This was too much for Uncie. More in sadness than in anger—for blood is thicker than water and Uncle loves Reuben—the former leaned out of the grand stand and directed Hoffman to relieve his exploded "phenom." While the old man was limbering up his arm Stafford stole second. Then Wright walked to first and both of them scored on Newman's single and errors by Han ley and Reitz.

The visitors took one in the fourth on a single by Hanley, a double by Sharp and a sacrifice by Peeples.

In the fifth Treadway singled and Hanley dropped McCauley's fly, and the latter stole second while Tredway was being caught at third, and scored on Glenalvin's single.

In their half the San Franciscos and Umpire McDermott did some disastrous work. After two men were out Levy, Reitz and Sweeney singled, filling the bases. Then Hanley hit one to Hasamaear, who fell across second base with the ball in his hand, forcing out Sweeney, but for some unaccountable reason McDermott called the runner safe and the visitors piled up five runs before the third man was out.

The principal features of the game were Spies's catch of Newman's foul upagainst the grandstand, Hasamaear's sensational catch in short center and the clean-cut, perfect fielding of "Pop" McCauley, Capt. Glenalvin, "Kid" Hulen and Peeples.

There is entirely too much kicking at the umpire during the games here, although Los Angeles is probably not worse than any of the other towns. It should be remembered that the umpire gives between 400 and 500 decisions in almost every game, the good ones being overlooked, while he is mercilessly roasted if he gives even one poor decision. No one on the ground is in a position to see the plays as well as the umpire, and it is especially absurd to find fault with his decisions on balls and strikes, it being almost impossible to tell whether the ball goes over the plate or not from any position in the grand stand or bleachers. The decisions are given as the umpire sees them, and they are generally right; even if they are not he is not allowed to change them under any circumstances, and it is "hoodlumism" to change them under any cir-cumstances, and it is "hoodlumism" to hoot and jeer as is often done. Baseball is a clean, manly sport which is patronized by the best people all over the United States, and the rule:

PIES PLANTED THE BALL OVER THE PENC

make the umpire absolute master of the park during the progress of the game. Not only must the players show him proper respect, but the spectators as well. He is vested with authority to well. He is vested with autority to fine any player or remove him from the game, or to cause the removal of any player who addresses him in a disre-spectful way, on penalty of forfeiture of the game. If baseball is to be pa-tronized by the best people of Los An-geles in the future, as it has been hereofore, decent respect must be shown the umpire.

The storm waves do not move around the geographical, but around the magnetic north pole, which is near 70° N. lat. and 97° W. long., or northwest of Baffin's Bay. The magnetic north pole being about 20° south of the earth's geographic north pole, it will be readily seen that the magnetic meridians and parallels are not the same as the geographic, therefore when I use the word meridian reference to storm waves, I have reference to the magnetic me-I have reference to the magnetic me

The centers of my weather divisions run nearly north and south, not far from the following points, beginning in the west and proceeding eastward as the storm waves move: First division, Olympia, Wash., and Fort Assineboine, in British America; second division, Los Angeles, Cal., and Boise City, Idaho; third division, Santa Fé, Black Hills and Qu-Appelle; fourth division, Galveston, Kansas City and Winnipeg; fifth division, Tampa, Fla., Cincinnati and Manistee, Mich.; sixth division, New York city and the south end of Hudson Bay. ludson Bay.

Each of these divisions represent the average movement eastward of the storm wave for one day, and the range of the continental storm waves lies be-tween 25° and 60° N. lat. The lati-tudes of the storm centers and their tudes of the storm centers and their running mates, the high barometers, are governed by the positions of the tropical storms and the sun, moon and planets.

The storm wave, consisting of a pair of high and low barometers, tied together at their tops and bottoms by an electric cord constituting their energy and motive power, is the key to all weather changes, and it matters not where the storm centers cross these magnetic meridians, whether at Galmagnetic meridians, whether at Galmagnetic meridians, whether at Gal-veston or Minneapolis, they cause the periodical weather changes from warm to cool, and back to warm again about every six days, which every observant person must have noticed. There are other storm wave periods, however, interlocked with these six day storm waves, that greatly complicate the weather problem.

The most important feature in mak-ing weather forecasts is to determine when the storm wave will cross the weather divisions described above. If we can know when the storm wave will reach the Olympia magnetic meridian on the Pacific Coast, we know that it will cross one of my weather divisions, on an average, about every day, providing always, that it is not interfered with by that system of tropical storm waves which visit the Gulf of Mexico and the West Indies.

These storm waves move entirely across the United States from west to east in five or six days, with a few exreptions.

Taking the Government daily weather maps as standard authority as to past weather events, I find that out of my 1532 published local forecasts for April, 1232 were verified and 800 were not.

Below I give the number of each class of forecasts for April with the results:

9	Verified.
	200 storm waves184
	170 wind veering142
-	200 cooler148
-	194 clearing146
	188 cool168
	180 fair148
1	192 moderating148
	208 warmer148

These weather events being predicted for sunset of the dates given, the forecasts are verified if the weather even occurs between the sunset of the day before and the day after, and I find that before and the day after, and I find that of the whole number of forecasts made for April, about one-half were verified on the day predicted and one-half the day following.

The per cent. of verifications is as follows: Of the whole number of forecasts, 80 per cent.; of storm waves, 92 per cent.; of wind changing, 84 per cent.; of cooler, 75; of clearing, 75; of cool weather, 90; of fair weather, 83; moderating, 78; and of warmer, 71. THE Chicago papers are boasting that at least thirty different religions will be represented in the "Congress of All Religions" that is to form part of next year's industrial exhibition-ten Asiatic religions, including Buddhism; four European, including Greek orthodoxy; four African, including fetichism, and twelve American, including Mormonism.

THE committee engaged in soliciting funds for the entertainment of the coming editorial visitors complain that they meeting with some discouragement. This is doubtless due in some measure to the recent experience of citizens in a like case, when they found that the members of the excursion of Press League clubs, with a few honorable exceptions, did not represent the journal ism of the country. In any enterprise of genuine merit, having for its object the good of the city and country, our people are not illiberal.

PETER ERICKSON, a witness in the Ru ell murder trial at Eau Claire, Wis., held out two days against the bulldozing of attorneys and the commands of the judge, and finally came off victorious in refusing to answer the question whether there had been criminal intimacy between himself and Mrs. Russell. With such non-committal stubbornness as that. Erickson may not have realized the Prince of Wales's ideal of "perjur ing himself like a gentleman," but he has damned the woman's reputation and his own just as effectually.

THERE was a little misadventure in connection with a leap year party at Covina the other evening, which, as described by the Argus of that place, is truly heart-rending. The young gen-tleman in the case had accepted an invitation from his best girl, and naturally supposed that she would call for him with a carriage. So he arrayed himself in his best and waited. The young lady who had given the invitation, thought only of conventional methods, so she arrayed herself and also waited. There were two hearts with but a single thought, but that thought was unfortunately founded on a misunlerstanding, and so they failed to beat synchronously. There was no leap year party for either one of those young people, but they may make up for their disappointment hereafter.

THE mines of the United States, in their practical operation and entirely distinct from the wildcat operations in stocks, are a vast source of wealth. Reports of sixty-four companies mining everything from coal to gold show that since January 1, 1892, they have paid in dividends the sum of $4.901.870. This is an average of $76,591 each, or about $19,150 profit each per month. Of course these are the successful mines, but the list is by no means complete and some of the biggest dividend-pavers are not included. The Yankee Girl, on Red Mountain, Ouray, Colo., has paid $1,700,000 in dividends, and the Guson the same mountain, has paid $1.087,500 in dividends. Mining, like some other kinds of business, is a great lottery. The capital prizes are few but sometimes they are very handsome.

Dr. Johnson said that he could r peat a complete chapter of "The Natural History of Iceland" the passage of that measure by the Senthe Danish of Horrebow, the whole of which was exactly thus: "Chapible argument in favor of the most ab ter lxxii. Snakes. There are snakes to be met with throughout the whole Island." By a typographical error in one letter, substitut ing'r for c, this was made Ireland in firing with Senators Sherman, Platt stead of Iceland, and so the story has been current that there are no snakes in Ireland since St. Patrick banishe the reptiles. A Belfast newspaper says that a serpent seven and a half feet long and nearly seven inches in circumference has been killed at Nora's Glen. It was taken to a contractor's yard in the town, where the reptile was inspected by a large number of people The solitary snake of Ireland will be preserved in a glass case for the inspec tion of future generations.

THE San Francisco Traffic Association has a good-sized row on its hands in the disagreement between President Stetson and Manager Leeds, and the resignation of the former. It is charged that Manager Leeds is trying to make the association an auxiliary to the Democratic party; that he has all along been playing for political capital and not following the consistent, business course necessary to accomplish results. Without expressing an opinion either way, we will say that the man who breaks the monopolistic grip on San Francisco will need to be omnipotent and omnipresent; he swill have to follow the railroad schemers into politics and out of politics, and through every back alley in the metrop-Perhaps Mr. Leeds set out honestly to do this; perhaps he has only been playing the demagogue. The new grade will skirt the line of the cemetery with a fall of one foot in eighty, and thus run some distance west. This route if adopted will not only furnish a good traffic and carriage outlet for the people on the high bluff about Philadelphia street, but it will be most acceptable for heavy traffic coming in Bellevue avenue, thus avoiding the steep hills on Temple street. The City Engineer has will probably report upon it at the next

The new boulevard through the western hills, which was recently referred to by a sarcastic Councilman as "the burro path," is making satisfactory progress. The grading force is now orking its way through the lands of Downey and Lankershim, and will soon be making the drive through Elysian Park. It is said that the grade will be easy all the way and yet in its various windings will reach the highest altitudes, giving, in turn, a view of every portion of the city. It will skirt the city on the west, running from West-lake Park to the East Side Park, and thence around through Boyle Heights by streets already graded. It will be a grand drive of some twenty or thirty miles on which to take visitors for a general inspection of the city.

Morrison of Indianapolis, inventor of the counter balance locomotive drive-wheel now in use on all railroads, have both just died, the latter as a pauper. There were nillions in each invention, but not for the inventor himself. In these cases as in many others, the reward goes no to the originator of the new idea, but to the man who has the capital and shrewdness to make the most of it. The Fultons and Morses contribute the ideas while the Goulds and Vanderbilts ge the millions. It looks like an unfair award, but the world gets the benefit of Ir is said that a company, composed of New York capitalists, has formed to construct a dam in Box Cañor in Arizona, which will be 200 feet in height and the backwater will extend sixteen miles to the Sierra Ancha Mountains. The capacity of the reservoir will be the largest in the world: 103,058,040,800 cubic feet of water. The estimated cost of the work is not to exceed $1,500,000. The water will be used to irrigate the Gila, Verde and Salt Valleys and as far as Yuma.

Projected Road Improvement on the Hills.

There is a project to grade a road-way around the old cemetery on Fream mont Hill which will prove of great benefit to people residing on the high lands north of that locality-and provide a good way for heavy traffic with Angelen and good way for heavy traffic with Angelen Heights and the western hill section. It is proposed to modify slightly the Democratic to put Roswell P. Flower outside the pale of Presidential possibilities: "Senator Hill went to Albany on Friday evening, and spent Saturday in putting the screws on Roswell P. Flower. The result was the executive approval of the most important bills left by the Legislature for the Governor's action. The election Inspectors' Bill, the Excise Bill, the Reapportionment Bill and the Constitutional Convention Bill are all laws in consequence. Is there any need of characterizing the Governor's conduct! Has he not written himself down in unmistable terms as the merest dummy of the most unscrupulous boss that ever cursed the State?"

Of Gov. McKinley as a presiding officer, the Cleveland Leader (Rep.) says no better could have been chosen, and adds: His speech on taking the chair was clear cut and forcible in its eloquence, and put the convention in the best humor for work. Throughout the proceedings he was cool and clear-headed to a remarkable degree, and directed the work of the day in a masterly way. Every near testicityely recovand directed the work of the day in a masterly way. Every one instinctively recognized that the man in the chair was tho rough master of himself and his duties Notwithstanding the loss of sleep and fatigue of a journey from Pittsburg the night before, he showed no trace of weak ness at any time. No politicit gathering it the history of the party in Ohio ever had a more eminently capable presiding officer or one who managed the convention more cleverly. In short, McKinley was the same noteworthy success as chairman of a great cieverly. In short, McKinley was the same noteworthy success as chairman of a great convention that he proved himself to be in Congress and is proving himself to be in the Governor's chair, and every delegate and every Republican in the hall was proud of him.

The Pittsburgh Dispatch (Rep.) in a leade on "Ohio's Peaceful Compromise." sees protection the keynote of the strain which is to culminate in a triumphal march for its supporters in November, and of him who is everywhere recognized as the embodiment of the principle of protection, has this to say: "Gov. McKinley once more distinguished himself as an orator worthy of the theme with which his name is so intimately associated. And as a statesman of the theme with which his name is so intimately associated. And as a statesman, he brings additional luster to that State from which so many men of national prominence sprung. His speech was brief, but thoroughly to the point. His words—"We love all our leaders, but we love our cause and our country better than all of them," are a worthy motto for any body of men in any country. With such patriotism predominant and the man embodying the highest interest of the country, and best fitted in himself for the duties of the office, could not fail of election to the Presidency in November. We cannot become a commonwealth of angels' in four months, but there should be no difficulty in an exhibition of sufficient enlightened patriotism to insure the election of a President who represents

Lincoln and Phillips.

unfortunate that in an eloquent and glowing speech upon Lincoln's birthday an orator should have thought it necessary to sneer at Wendell Phil-lips in order to point his praise of Abra-ham Lincoln. Alluding to Mr. Phil-lines acathing are property of Praise. ham Lincoln. Alluding to Mr. Phil-lips's scathing arraignment of Presi-dent Lincoln's administration when it seemed to drift, the speaker said: "If I may pharaphrase a famous saying, the world will little note nor long remem-ber what Wendell Phillips said here; it can never forget what Abraham Lincoln did here.

The speaker is aware, of course, that there was at times a deep and general discontent with what was felt to be the delays of the Lincoln administration. Even as late as August, 1864, after his second nomination, Mr. Greeley, Winter Davis and many other eminent and pat-riotic Republicans demanded his with-drawal as an unsatisfactory candidate. Mr. Sumner besought Mr. Lincoln to move more rapidly, and the wise President replied, "Mr. Sumner, I am only six weeks behind you." The feeling that he was too slow was not peculiar to Mr. Phillips. He was mistaken in a goodly company, as the speaker himsel wendell Phillips said along and in his startling tones to arrest attention, what others were saying privately. But he and they and Lincoln had the same great end at heart. Phillips's duty, like that of Samuel Adams, was to arouse the public mind, and to express with force public discontent. He did it with the art of an orator; he did it with what now seems injustice and with too what now seems in justice and with too sweeping a generalization. But he stimulated the public feeling which was indispensable to strengthen Lincoln to go forward. Each in his own way honestly served the good cause. Both were great patriots.

Taxing Abutting Proper As the subject of street paving is one of deep interest to us at this time, anything relative thereto is of great im portance. A wr er in Balways says:

"The established method of issuing bonds to raise money for public improvements commends itself for its economy to the taxpayer. Money can e horrowed by the city government of many of the leading cities of this coutry at 3 per cent. interest, while it worth 6 per cent. to the average citi zen. This is one of the advantages of ssociation. But honesty and econom equire that the time of a loan shall not exceed the life of the impro purchased. An issue of bonds loan for improved pavements should b limited to the average life of a pave-ment, after which it will have to be relaid and the expense duplicated. The argument that our children will get the use of them does not apply if they wear out. There is but one way to make abutting property pay its proportion with other property, and that is by a general and frequent reassessment of land values. The abutting property would usually bear the larger part of the expense, but it would be because it usually receives the larger part of the general increase in values occasioned by improvements."

liphtheria was handed in today Nature has her own remedy for this Nature has ner own rememy for this disease. It is nothing more or less than pineapple juice. It will cure the worst case that mortal flesh was ever afflicted with. I did not discover the remedy, the colored people of the South did that. While in Mississippi, some few years ago, one of my children was years ago, one of my children was taken with diphtheria and the question of his death was only the problem of a few hours. An old colored man, to whom my wife had shown some kind-ness, called at the house, and, saying he had heard of my little one's illness, urged me to use pineapple juice. The old fellow declared that in Louisiana old fellow declared that in Louisiana, where he came from, he had seen it tried many times, and that in each case it had proved effective. So I secured a pineapple and squeezed out the juice. After a while we got some of it down the boy's throat, and in a short time he was cured. The pineapple must be, thoroughly ripe. The juice is of so corrosive a nature that it will cut the diphtheria mucus. Try it.

difficulty in speaking about the present political situation lies in the fact that

The Pine Tree State convention adopted resolutions that President there is no situation to speak about. Everything is in an uneasy, formula-tive and uncertain state. Any Republi-can will say, "Certainly Mr. Harrison will be renominated." Any Democrat will say, "It appears that Cleveland will be the nominee." That is the position taken by the leaders of both parties. But underneath this complacent surface there is a world of warfare and preserve in resire to the complete of the comp placent surrace there is a work of wal-fare and preparation going on.

The Star says today: "If the oppo-sition to Mr. Harrison are successful in their efforts the Republican Presiden-tial ticket will be James G. Blaine and Jerry M. Rusk. This is the ticket, it may be stated with considerable posi-tioness that they propage to press in may be stated with considerable posi-tiveness, that they propose to press in the convention in opposition to Mr. Harrison. It is said by those who do not favor Mr. Harrison's candidacy that there is much that is misleading in the statements that are being given out concerning the instructed delegates. In the claims made for Mr. Harrison they say that whenever a State con-vention has instructed for him this is assumed to mean that all the delegates. assumed to mean that all the delegate assumed to mean that all the delegates of that State are instructed for him, but that such is not the case. The instructions by the State conventions apply to the delegates at large only. The district delegates are not included in the instruction, and may be uninstructed, or instructed differently from the four delegates at large.

structed, or instructed differently from the four delegates-at-large."
All talk about the Republican opponents of Mr. Harrison combining upon a ticket to be put up against the President is nonsense. The men opposed to Harrison are the most acute politicians and managers of the time, and their play is to keep the position of Harrison against the field. Should they show their hand in a distinctly announced opposition ticket it would give the adopposition ticket it would give the administration men something definite to fight, and the idea is to weaken the President so that he cannot secure the nomination on the first or second bal lot, and then make the stampede in the convention, organized in advance, to a new man.

Their ticket may be, first Blaine and Lincoln, or second, Blaine and Rusk, or failing of Blaine, Reed or McKinle may be made to head the ticket. Wit may be made to head the ticket. With the people who are against the Presi-dent it is "anything to beat Harrison." That is their cry now. In the category of opposition within party lines are included the names of Quay, Platt, Clarkson, Dudley, Foraker, Conger, Clarkson, Dudley, Foraker, Conger, Mahone and others, including Hatton, though the latter is not. a Blaine man by several miles, and others in the same ine of experience and influence. There is no discounting the ability of such a combination, and it is that the admin-istration will find hard to combat. The disposition of the men in the party ar aryed against Harrison is not one of indifference or apathy. It is one of active hostility, and it is no time for glossing over matters, but it is a time for dealing fairly with the people in the way of correct information

On the 15th of last month Senato Washburn said that Mr. Blaine had just told him that his letter had been dragged out of him by continual nagging administration. Mr. Blaine sai at the administration. Mr. Blaine said to another person that he put out his letter as soon as he learned of the contemplated appointment of his old friend and supporter, Elkins, to the Cabinet, so that it should not appear that the latter was procured by Secretary Blaine. Russell B. Harrison is stating for mubilication that Mr. Blaine is refor publication that Mr. Blaine is r duced to second childhood, and can do little more than sign his name to pa-pers, while Mr. Blaine walks the streets with vigorous stride and delivers characteristic argument before a Con-gressional committee on a subject of international importance.

. . . In order to give full information from every direction upon current poli-tical matters, I quote from the dispatch which Mr. Dunnell will send tonight to the New York (Mugwump) Times:
. "The feeling seems to be growing that whatever the enemies of the President may decide upon, they will not show their hand until the deleates are assembled at Minneapolis "'That would be my way of doing business,' said a well-known Republications. Who hates Harrison, this even ing. What is to be gained by telling the world what the programme of the opposition is? he continued. The Senator refused to say whether this was a hint as to the probable plan of the Republicans who desire to see Harrison set aside, but, nevertheless, such a plan is regarded as very likely to be adopted.

"There continues to be considerable
Sherman talk in the hotel lobbies. One man is nearer a nomination today tha he has been at any time since he aspired to the Presidency. His admir aspired to the restands stronger before the people of the country than any of the men mentioned in connection with the nomination, with the possible exception of Blaine, and they regard the nomination of Blaine as out of the question. They say that if the Sherman movement acquired any momentum in the convention, delegates from New York and Pennsylvania would undoubtedly be found supporting him. The Reed movement has made no appreciable gain in the last two or three days.
Mr. Reed continues to remain mum as an oyster when questioned by newspaper men on the subject of his alleged candidacy. Not even the satisfaction of a denial that he is in the race is forthcoming. Men who stand closest to him say that Mr. Reed fully believes that Harrison will not be renominated. The Republicans who wish to get Mr. Harrison out of the way because well-known views on the subject of free coinage are keeping remarkably quiet of late. Possibly the fact that the op-position to him will have a tendency to handicap the movement has something to do with their present attitude

This is a statement from a Mugwump standpoint, but it is fairly given. It is a fact that never before at this distance from the national convention were so many lightning rods up and so much anxiety, uncertainty and expectation. anxiety, uncertainty and expectation. In conclusion I may say that the power of administration, in the event of the failure of Mr. Harrison to secure a renomination, will be thrown to Mr. Sherman. That is the significant fact of all.

Consideration of the Naval Bill was resumed, and after the rejection of Mr. McPherson's amendment appropriating $250,000 toward the construction of a dry dock at Algiers, La., the regular consideration of the bill was resumed at the point where "increase of the navy" is provided for. The bill, as it came from the House, provides for one armored cruiser of about 8000 tons displacement, to cost, exclusive of armaamendment, as reported from the Sen-ate Committee on Appropriations, pro-vides in addition for one sea-going coast line-of-battle ship of about 9000 away."

Gorman spoke of the great advance during recent years, establishing that steel war vessels could be built here for within 8 per cent. of the cost of building them on the Clyde. The progress was due to the policy of building a new navy, which policy was inaugurated under the last administration. He therefore proposed to vote for a proportionate increase of the navy. He knew the financial problem was a serious one and Congress was being criticised for the great amount of money expended. The expenditures had grown from year to year and now that steel war vessels could be built grown from year to year and now economy and careful appropriations would have to be the order of the day; if not, increased taxation would follow; and still he knew of no great appropriation that could be reduced without stopping great works of the Government and paralyzing the steel industries of the country. He, for one, was not prepared until the country should have the navy promised to have the cry of economy prevent him from voting for a contemporary to the country of the country of

There has been an increase every year, to matter what administration is in power, no matter what administration is in power, and as the country grows and you go on with the construction of your navy and open harbors and deepen rivers and make great guns for the army and navy, these expenditures must increase. The Senator from Mississippi (Mr. George) asks how can they be reduced? They can be reduced when we reach the point (which will be within a year or two) of stopping the further construction of a navy; when you have on hand guns enough to place in the forts; when you have enough to prace in the forts; when you have enough to predo boats to look after the harbors, and when you stop your appropriations for rivers and harbors. When you come to pensions, the expenditures for them, outragious as it is to increase pensions to such an extent, must continue until time operates to reduce them. Both sides time operates to reduce them. Both sides Claudius, John Middleton, born at Hale in Lancashire, in the time of James I, was 9 feet 3 inches long and 8 ½ inches broad, says Dr. Plott in his "History of Staffordshire." RIVERS AND HARBORS.

The Senate More Liberal than the House for Their Improvement.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—[By the Associated Press.] The Senate Committee on Commerce today reported back the River and Harbor Bill, with amend-ments, increasing the total of the House Bill by $1,218,000 net. The most important changes are as follows:

An addition of four contract sections replacing the yearly appropriations on portions of the Missouri River, the St. Johns in Florida, the Great Kanawha Johns in Florida, the Great Kanawha in West Virginia and for a boat railway at The Dalles, Or. In the latter case the total contract expenditure is not to exceed $2,850,000.

□The Senate Committee increased the appropriations made by the House by the following amounts in the cases mentioned, besides offers.

Harbors: California—Wilmington, $31,000; deep harbor survey (new,) $25,000. Oregon—Yaquima, $10,000. Washington—Gray's Harbor, $20,000; Olympia, $10,000; Lake Washington Canal (new,) $200,000.

Rivers: Oregon—The Dalles Boat Railway (new,) $250,000; mouth of the Columbia, $50,000; Lower Willamette and Columbia, $50,000. Washington—Snohomish Slough, $50,000; Columbia at Vancouver (new,) $38,000; willipa River and Harbor, $18,000; upper Columbia survey, $10,000. Minnesota—Survey of Lake Superior and the Mississippi Canal (new,) $10,000; upper Mississippi River, $50,000.

The following appropriation was stricken out: Gila River, Ariz, $10,000.

The following appropriation was stricken out: Gila River, Ariz., $10,-000. Appropriations made by the House were decreased by the following amounts: Mississippi River, head of passes to mouth of Ohio, including harbors, $195,000: Missouri River, mouth to Sioux City, $50,000.

Senator Frye, chairman of the committee, submitted a detailed report on the bill, showing the wisdom and necessity of expenditures for river and harbor improvements. The total expenditures for water improvements of the great lakes amounted to about $30,- the great lakes amounted to about $30,000,000, or one-fifth the annual saving effected in transportation. The report states that the improvement of port states that the improvement of these waterways has decreased freights on corn from 15% cents per bushel in 1859 to 1.9 cents per bushel in 1890. The report then speaks of the value of the Mississippi River and its tributaries to commerce.

The report further speaks of the efficacy and benefits of river and harbor improvements on the Pacific Coast, and mentions particularly the work just reaching completion at the mouth of the Columbia River. Seminary, introduced a resolution declaring that the church should come out squarely on the struggle between capital and labor. He declared in his remarks that the church has not shown enough sympathy with the toiling millions, and that the laboring classes are drifting away from it. The resolution was referred to the Committee on State of the Church.

A resolution to change the rules so as to admit women as lay delegates in the general conference was referred to the Committee on Lay Delegates.

The order of the day, memorial services for members of the conference who have died during the year was then taken up. Bishop Bowman presided. Services in honor of the following were then conducted: John H. Phillips, Rev. H. A. Bayliss, D.D., Gen. Clinton B. Fisk, Rev. J. M. Trimball, D.D., Rev. St. James Fry, D.D., Rev. the first and only dry goods house in this city to close Saturday night. Our aim has been to first establish the fact that we give more liberal treatment to the employees. We pay more and better attention to the patrons of this house; we refund money where goods are not satisfactory; all we ask is for the goods to be returned in a good merchantable condition. It is now the intention to turn the batteries on the question of prices. We have refrained from this in the start to first get the public thoroughly versed in our new methods. We believe, from the large increase in business and from the favorable talk in all directions, that we are now thoroughly and well advertised on this one point. In Sunday's TIMES we commence with a few prices. This is only an indication of what you may expect in the future; there is new ideas at the top. We are more liberal in all respects than any dry goods house in this city; more than one body of citizens can testify on this point. When it comes to a question of prices we shall take the lead and stay by it. A few months ago this house had to stand the odium of a big-headed manager; made possibly so by the ill health of the proprietor, who was totally incapacitated at times for looking after the details of the business. Things by the score were done that was wholly unknown; they have been rectified. With good health we are now responsible for the entire management of this business, and the business is growing at a tremendous rate. Time at last sets all things even. Truth is mighty and must prevail.

A Speedy Dissolution of Parliament Anticipated.

Gladstone's Return to Power Ex pected This Summer.

The Liberal Leader Losing Ground With the Labor Party.

English Tories Fomenting Ulster's Rebei lion Against the Proposed Parlia. ment in Dublin-Gossip From England's Capital

By relegraph to the times.

London, May 13.—[Copyright by the New York Associated Press.] Balfour will meet the Conservative election agents may 81, when a definite indicacation will be given as to the date of the general elections. In the meantime election agents swarm the lobbies of the Commons, pestering members to expedite the dissolution. It is hinted that the government is favorable to a midsum are election. When the Cable midsummer election. When the Cabinet decision is announced the parties will be fully prepared and everything will be in readiness. The crown office will dispatch election writs within twenty-four hours after the intimation of a dissolution is given. Officers in charge of private bills in the Commons have been instructed to wind up their business as far as possible by June 24. From this the Liberals reason that the writs will be issued June 28. Two weeks later the borrough elections will be completed, and within three weeks the county elections.

As the new Parliament must assem-As the new Parliament must assemble within thirty-five days of the dissolution of the preceding one, if general expectation is fulfilled, the first week in August will see Gladstone reinstated in power. The Irish party take it for granted that the special session to be held in November will proceed with the home rule measure. In 1886 the bill suffered from haste in preparation, and it was declared that Gladstone will not make a similar error. If the Libnot make a similar error. If the Liberal government is constituted in the autumn no policy of home rule ought to be fully developed before the session of 1893.

In the electoral field the activity of In the electoral field the activity of the Independent Labor party is a start-ling phenomenon. No less than 165 candidates are already in the field, backed by subscriptions from trades unions, local societies, and Tory donations. In a daily increasing number of districts the workingmen oppose the Liberals. Gladstone's negative opposition to payment of members of the House, and to the eight-hour movement, and his indifference to other articles of the Newcastle programme, has allenthe Newcastle programme, has alienated a considerable mass of electors. The opposition leaders have decided to leave it to the Irish members to move the rejection of the Irish Local Government Bill, and Sexton, in the absence of McCarthy, will take the initiative.

SELF-DEFENSE.

A Boy Acquitted of Killing an Ex.Convict.

WARREN (Pa.,) May 13.—[By the Associated Press.] Late last night, Lloyd Raver, the fourteen-year-old son of Robert Raver of Garfield, shot and killed Charles Harrington, an ex-convict. Six years ago Harrington ab-ducted the thirteen-year-old sister of young Raver and induced her to live with him. Harrington was arrested and sent to prison for four years. When his term expired he returned to Garfield and threatened to kill the girl if she did not go with him. He was arrested again and sent to the penitentiary for fifteen months. He swore revenge and when released a few days ago went to Garfield and last night called at Raver's house and demanded to see the girl. The door was closed upon him and he proceeded to break it down, when young Raver took a rifle and shot him, the bullet entering his brain. Raver gave himself up, but the coroner's jury brought in a verdict of

Dooley was tracked to the depot and arrested while in the act of writing a telegram. The revolver with which the murder was committed was found in his overcoat pocket. Dooley was quietly placed in a box car of a passing freight train and brought to Corning jail. He persistently denied having committed the murder until noon, when he broke down and confessed his guilt. He says he quarreled with Mrs. Coon and struck her on the head with a padlock felling her to the floor. He denied ravishing her, but the position of the body and clothing contradicts this. He says the little girl ran in and he struck her to the floor with a padlock. He then shot her in the forehead. The evidence goes to show, however, that he killed the girl after she had escaped from the house, as a pool of blood on the outside of the house and a bullet hole in the side of the house would interest. hole in the side of the house would in

About 8 o'clock the Sheriff took Dooley from the jail to the depot, intending to transport him to some western lowa town. The train was two hours late and before it arrived the depot was surrounded by a mob of 1000 men who threatened to hang Dooley. Several deputies were sworn in and Dooley was safely placed on the train for Council Bluffs.

WICHITA (Kan.,) May 13.—[By the Associated Press.] The formation of three tornadoes was witnessed here about 6 o'clock this evening. Two were about six miles south and another about the same distance northeast.

A dispatch from Augusta, in Butler county, says that the northeastern twister struck there about 6 o'clock, demolishing fifteen houses and wreckdemolishing fifteen houses and wrecking the Santa Fé stock pens. W. S. Ellisworth had a leg broken and Frank Marsh was slightly injured. Nearly all the people in the town saw the storm approaching and sought safety in cyclone caves, which, it is thought, prevented great loss of life. Telegraph wires are down and details are unobtainable.

Towanda, a few miles north of Augusta, was also visited by the tornado and half a dosen houses were demolished. Towanda was totally wiped from the face of the earth by a cyclone in March and a number of people were killed or injured. The citizens who had the courage to remain rebuilt their

A BURGLAR'S EXPERIENCE. He Encounters the Head of the House and

Retires. [Detroit Tribune.]

The burglar had been through the whole house without finding so much as a collar button. He was just about to surrender himself entirely to bitter reflections upon the centralization of wealth in modern times, when his eyes chanced to rest upon a massive service of silver plate upon the sideboard in the dining-room.
"Aha," he muttered, in the old con

"Aha," he muttered, in the old conventional way so familiar to all who have ever met burglars, "it is mine."

He spoke confidently, not noticing that a tail man, clad in a nightdress, was stealing noiselessly along the corridor; not noticing that from the snowy folds of the thin robe fluttering gently in the chill night wind there glittered a revolver; not noticing that a cold. The Prince of Wales, presiding at a neeting today, appeared to be altoment. With a dexterity born of long ment. With a dexterity born of long usage he gathered a dozen knives and a sugar bowl in one hand, and in the other the cream pitcher and water set.

It seemed to the burglar that one of his fingers had been shot away. It was only a presumption upon his part, however.

"Oh, certainly," he cordially remarked as he replaced the silver on the sideboard, "if you insist. Life is too short to spend it in arguing with captious people. Good night."

His feet seemed very heavy as he proceeded homeward and he was at a loss to account for it until he retired, when he found a bullet in each shoe.

We have talked with nearly every rancher in the pass regarding crops, and find that only a few have any fears as to the outcome. Barley is looking well and will undoubtedly yield an average crop. The prospects for a good yield are better in the San Gorgonia Valley than in any other part of Southern California. The soil here has never failed to produce a crop, and with a poor crop elsewhere this year our farmers will fare unusually well in the matter of prices.—[Banning Herald.

Preparations are being made for the G.A.R. encampment to be held here in July, and there is a promise of a larger attendance than at any other encampment in the district since it was organized. The camp will be held in the plaza, an open space which will easily accommodate all that will come. It will be lighted with electricity, without any charge to the camp, and water from a large fountain in the center of the plaza will be free. These are only a few of the details which have been arranged, but enough is developed to greatly encourage the officers with the success in sight.

SAN BERNARDING. The second meeting of the new Board of Trade, the organization being not yet completed, was held on Thursday evening, and the activity shown and the decided differpleted, was held on Thursday evening, and the activity shown and the decided differences of opinion expressed shows conclusively that the meetings are not likely to prove uninteresting, whether they may be valuable or not, although there is little doubt about their being made a beneficial factor in the prosperity of the city. After giving the Committee on By-laws more time and deciding to rent the front room, second floor, of the Roe building, the forestry reservation question came up. The committee appointed to investigate and report upon the matter submitted two reports, the majority report, a very lengthy one, being signed by Seth Marshall and Fred T. Perris and the minority by Judge C. W. C. Rowell. The majority report favored the passing of a resolution by the board indorsing the proposed Government reservation lying east of the Cajon Pass and extending to the Mojave Desert on the north and east and the San Gorgonio Pass on the south, for the purpose of protecting the forests and the water supply. Among the reasons stated by the majority of the committee was the statement that by denuding the mountains of the forest trees the source of water supply would be greatly endangered, citing instances in which the failure of the water supply would be greatly endangered, citing instances in which the failure of the water supply would be greatly endangered, citing instances in which the failure of the water supply was attributed to this cause. The minority report opposed the passage of the resolution because a large portion, perhaps half of the lands specified, have been surveyed and passed into private hands and the owners of this land would, therefore, have a monopoly of the timber and water of the region. The report said that further development of water was needed in the region, which could not be if the lands designated should be set aside for a national park. After some lively discussion the whole matter was carried over to the meeting next Thursday evening.

The Board of Trade has appointed a committee of citizens to meet the excursion of the National Editorial Association, and Superintendent Beamer, of the Santa Fé, has placed a special engine and a private car at the disposal of the committee, which will leave here at 7:30 this evening with flowers, fruits and wines to meet the excursion at Barstow. A part of the excursionists, perhaps two sections, will breakfast at the Santa Fé eating house in this city tomorrow morning, ear route to San Diego. The citizens will probably load them with flowers at that time.

The social and musicale by the Æolian orchestra and the ladies of the Universalist orchestra and the ladies of the Universalist Church closed on Thursday evening with a delightful programme. There was an abundance of roses in the decoration of the church, making the strains of music sound the sweeter. The half dozen selections of the Æolian orchestra were well received, and the execution of the overture "Aurora" and the waltz "Visions de A'Moier" being especially appreciated. Misses Nellson and Eggleston played well a duet, a difficult plano plece, and were loudly encored. Mrs. H. H. Monroe charmed the audience with her voice in that old favorite, "Anchored," and for an encore, "The Maid of the Mill." By way of variety Mr. Readman gave several humorous recitations. George Cook sang "Only a Picture," accompanied by the orchestra. The most artistic performance of the evening was the piano solo, Rubenstein's "Valse Caprice," by Miss Annie L. Holmes, who showed remarkable skill and a most sympathetic touch in her handling of the keys. The encore was responded to with a taking air. During the evening refreshments were served and flowers and fancy articles sold Church closed on Thursday evening with a mer leaving a supposed whow and an estate valued at upward of $80,000. Now comes a petition through W. J. McIntyre of this city, from Eliza Ann Boyd of Owen Sound, Ontario, Canada, setting forth that she was, at the time of his death, the law. It wis feel John Boyd, and is therefore entitled to a portion of the property left by deceased, and asks for a large part of it, in all about three-fourths of it.

J. M. Kilbourne, son of Eliza Ann Boyd by a former husband, is in the city in the interest of his mother. The affair is still further complicated by the application of W. C. Boyd, father of the deceased, for a share of the estate. The old gentleman is now 90 years of age, and asks for but one-fourth of the estate. Peter Ferguson of this city is his attorney, and W. J. McIntyre, also of Riverside, is the attorney for Mrs. Eliza Ann Boyd, and Mrs. Boyd No. 2 has not yet secured an attorney, though the case is to be heard today before Judge Campbell in San Bernardino.

The complication of affairs seems to have riten in this wise: John Boyd, when but 23 years old, married his first wife, who was a widow some fifteen years his senior and having several children. He left his wife at Owen Sound. Ontario, in 1875 or 1876, and came to California, and in 1877 applied for a divorce at San Francisco. But defendant came on to that city and suit was withdrawn. She subsequently went East and in 1879 Boyd began living with a Mrs. Maggle Burman, widow of an army officer, and to whom it was supposed he was married at Los Angeles. Boyd came to this city, engaged in the salono business and accumulated a fortune of some $80,000, and last summer died, leaving no will. Proof of marriage with the woman with whom he was living at, the time of his death has not yet been produced, nor of his having secured a divorce from his first wife. Mrs. Maggle Burman. Boyd, therefore, stands little show for the fortune.

Testimony in the Lompoc Chinese Murder Case Concluded.

Jury to Be Impaneled to Examin Into Vital's Sanity—The Flower Fes-tival Society Incorporated— Notes and Personals.

In the Superior Court, Judge Cope pre-siding, the Vital murder case was con-tinued in the afternoon of Thursday. Nathaniel Stewart, a butcher, was sworn and testified that he was with the officers when the men, Vital and Campbell, were ar-rested. On searching them three pistols, ome bullets, two pocket knives and two pocket books were found. They were taken back to Lompoc. When questioned by Vital he said that in a conversation with them at the time he (Vital) had said that he and Campbell that just got together at bell and had searched the wash-house after the murder.

William Jackson, justice of the peace and Coroner of Lompoc, identified the builtet taken from the dead body of the Chinaman and also the articles taken from the men. The prosecution then rested, when Vital's counsel, Frank P. Kelly, Esq., moved that the defendant be discharged on the ground that the prosecution had failed to show that a man by the name of Ah Lee had been tilled.

Motion denied and court adjourned to Priday morning at 10 o'clock.

Friday morning Vital, the defendant took the stand to testify in his own behalf. He was told to tell his own story; he was not cross-examined, and only one or two questions were asked him by members of the jury. His talk was rambling, disconnected and incohrent, impressing a number of the spectators with the idea that he was scarcely sane, He was on the stand more than an hour. This closed the testimony when Judge Cope declared a recess of a few minutes When the court was convened again the Judge informed the jury that he deemed it best to postpone further proceedings until 10 o'clock today, and that they deemed it best to postpone further proceedings until 10 o'clock today, and that they were excused until that hour. This was done for the purpose of summoning another jury to inquire into the question of the defendant's sanity, to meet at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Residents of this city have been annoyed the past few weeks by a series of petty thefts that have been aggravating in the extreme. Some individual seemed to possess an abnormal propensity to purloin all available sprinkling hose and attachments in the city, and, as a result, many residents awoke in the early morning for the past two weeks to find that their yard had been visited during the night and not a semblance of their carefully coiled hose left as a reminder of their work on the pre-vious evening.

cnarged with a crime that will no doubt send him across the bay for a term of years.

By a clever piece of detective work by Marshal Nichols of this city and Detectives Benson and Auble of Los Angeles the crime has been fastened on J. F. Robinson, of No. 1823 South San Pedro street, Los Angeles, where he was arrested at a late hour Thursday night.

Robinson lived in Santa Ana for several years and while here worked for Pete Eshelbaugh and F. Holzgraffe. He was seen in this city just previous to the recent series of thefts, but dropped out of sight when the thefts began. He did not put up at a hotel but instead stopped at a Spanish house on Bush street kept by Mrs. Prenafefa.

Robinson has a very shady reputation in this city in more ways than one. It is no secret that he succeeded in turning the affections of the wife of one of Orange county's viticulturists, causing her to leave her husband and take up with him, since which time they have been very intimately associated. The woman is at present restiding in Los Angeles, so it is reported, but The Times representative could not ascertain whether or not she was making her home at No. 1823 South San Pedro street. Marshal Nichols returned from Los Angeles last evenitg with Robinson and placed him in the County Jail to remain until today, when he will have his preliminary examination.

It is reported that thirty-five feet of the Important Reduction in Thousand-mile Tickets.

Eastern Rates to Be Adopted for California Roads.

A Notable Innovation Made in Grain-Carrying Methods.

> ns Among Southern Pacific Train General, Local and Per-

It is learned that the Santa Fé gen eral passenger department expects soon to make an important reduction in the price of mileage tickets, which will the price of mileage tickets, which will be appreciated by the trayeling public. Book tickets, good for 1000 miles travel on the Southern California lines, will be sold at $25 instead of $80, the former price, and be limited to one year from date of sale. They will be sold subject to the usual conditions, and old subject to the usual conditions, and who travel much the rate of 3 % cents a mile will prove quite a con

AN INNOVATION IN PRESENT CARRYING.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has just made an experimental movement of a through train of forty cars loaded with grain from Chicago to the the East without change of engine or break in the train, which is a novel departure. Under the old plan grain has been hauled to the East in freight cars attached to trains which carried other kinds of freight. This arrangement involved a great delay in the yards at kinds of freight. Into arrangement involved a great delay in the yards at terminal points, the frequent shifting of cars and an enormous amount of handling. In order to obviate these difficulties the Pennsylvania Company nanding. In order to obviate these difficulties the Pennsylvania Company determined to institute a complete service of through grain trains. The first train of this character left Chicago Saturday morning at 10 o'clock and arrived in Philadelphia the following Tuesday evening. The train was composed of forty cars, each loaded to the maximum, containing 60,000 pounds of corn. The weight of the grain alone is nearly 1200 tons, or nearly 50,000 bushels. The weight of the entire train, including locomotive and caboose, is 4,000,000 pounds. No attempt at making fast time is contemplated in this movement, but the fact that the train goes through solid without stopping, even for the usual change of engines, saves a great many hours. The through train is equipped with all the modern appliances, including air brakes. This is the first freight train movement of this kind ever inaugurated in this country.

The next meeting of the Western Traffic Association will be held in Chi-cago on the 19th if representatives of all the lines consent to waive the two weeks' notice. Some important busi-ness is before the association.

Extremely pretty sonvenir passes have been issued by the general passenger department of the Southern California road for the visiting members of the National Editorial Association, who will reach Barstow tomorrow morning.

They are not as daring as the men in jumping on and off trains, but they are found hanging all over a freight car, on the trucks, or clinging to the truss rods by hand and feet; in fact, a good many dangerous places that a male tramp would never think of going.

The Las Vegas Optic says that the Santa Fé freight and ticket agent at Guaymas, J. A. Nagle, has opened a new field for freights, which will undoubtedly lead to large results, and that is the shipment of Sonora water-melons (which are among the best in the country and several months earlier than those of most of the States and territories of the Union.) to the princi-pal cities of the United States, at rates which admit of such shipments.

The Chronicle says: "Grand Master Clarke of the Order of Conductors and Chief Wilkinson of the Order of Train-men are both dissatisfied with the local members of their respective orders for having summoned them to this city on comparatively unimportant matters.

They expressed themselves very freely to the men, and intimated in plain terms that they were by no means pleased at baving had to make a long journey to so little purpose. All the matters complained of were settled at the very first conference with the Southern Pacific officials, with the exception of the one subject of wage rates."

There is trouble brewing in the rail-road shops of the Southern Pacific at Sacramento. Last Saturday the fore-man in the car builders' department discharged eleven men for refusing to accede to a heavy cut in the rate paid for building freight cars. The matter was immediately reported to the union, and at a special meeting a committee was appointed to interview C. F. Crocker and A. N. Towne at San Francisco. The committee resurred and re-Crocker and A. N. Towne at San Francisco. The committee returned and reported that a satisfactory agreement had been reached. When the men visited the railroad shops the next morning Superintendent Small notified them that their services were no longer required. Their grievance was reported to the union and immediate action will be taken. It is feared that the trouble will assume serious dimensions.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The Directors Instructed to Proceed at Once With Incorporation. Once With Incorporation.

The regular monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was held last night, with President Wells presiding. The meeting was better attended than usual, for the reason that the question of the incorporation of the chamber, in which much interest has been felt, was to be decided.

The report of the Finance Committee was read and approved, and the regular monthly bills were ordered paid.

S. Haigler were elected members of the chamber.

Judge Graff, chairman of the Committee on Laws and Legislation, to whom the method of incorporation had been referred by the chamber, presented a lengthy report. Before reading the report Judge Graff stated briefly the object of the report, saying that a number of the members for some time past have desired to incorporate the chamber, and he had been asked to draw up a new constitution and by-laws for the institution, which he had done, and proceeded to read the same section by section.

The plan as outlined relieves members from all financial responsibility other than that involved in the regular payment of dues, but provides for a stockholding organization within the chamber with a view to ultimately constructing a building—only such members as choose to do so to subscribe to the building fundstock.

Gen. Bouton thought it would be impossible to consider the by-laws until after the chamber has incorporated.

The report of the committee was received.

The "Royal" the Strongest and Purest Baking Powder.

Whether any other baking powder is equal to "Royal," let the official reports decide. When the different powders were purchased on the open market and examined by Prof. Chandler, of the New-York Board of Health, the result showed that Royal Baking Powder contained twenty-seven per cent. greater strength than any other brand.

When compared in money value, this difference would be as follows:

No Boom at Jerusalem, [Washington Star.]
The land speculation scheme which was associated with the railroad project seems to have come to grief, and the land boom near Jaffa and Jerusalem, the land boom hear Jana and Jerusalem, started a year or two ago, has collapsed. There is much fertile land near Jaffa and on the plains of Sharon, and the Jaffa oranges are in great demand, like our Florida Indian River oranges, but so many discouragements are thrown over all industrial enterprises by the Turkish government that while Palestine continues under the control of that dog-in-the-manger power there is not much prospect of any great amount of business development in that country.

People's Store!

May 14, 1892.

We have some exceptional values in merchandise throughout our stores that we are very anxious to dispose of. This is not said in the ordinary phraseology of business. The inclement weather which has prevailed during the past ten days has lessened the average of our daily sales. It is a feeling of pride with us to keep our average above the corresponding days of the past year, and to accomplish it, although it may seem idle to you, we are willing to force goods at almost any price. More particularly is this the case in our Dress Goods Department. We unpacked a case of All-wool Plaid Dress Goods, 36 inches wide, which were bought at a special drive at 50c per yard. They are yours today at 35c. We claim our Dress Goods Department to be the keynote to our entire business. You can judge of the values offered throughout the house by what we show you here. A superb quality of Bedford Cords, which is an exceptional value at $1.00, you will find on our counters at 75c. We commend this to you as the best cloth that was ever sold for the price anywhere. In our Parasol Department we have repriced our parasols and chopped them off 33% percent. In our Silk Handkerchief Department we are selling men's large size, elegant quality, all silk, colored bordered handkerchiefs at 50c that were a bargain at 85c. In our Household Department we are selling patent lifting sad irons at 25c aplece. The usual price is $3.00 for a set of three irons with one lift. We are also making a special sale of Iron Stone China and Decorated Granite Ware. We are offering big values in Hosiery. Special Inducements offered in the Gents' Furnishing Department and in the Men's Straw Hats. Guaranteed Shoes to wear for men, women and children at lower prices than you can purchase inferior goods for. As said before, we are making extra efforts and offering extra inducements to secure your trade during the coming ten days.

We have too many on hand, and the most successful way we know of to sell them is to reduce the price to such an extent that people will know at a glance when they see the goods that they are getting one of the biggest bargains ever yet offered. For instance:

Boyle Heights

Last evening was the time of Prof. Simon's May-pole party and flower dance at Korbel Hall, and proved an enjoyable occasion to all who had the good fortune to attend. The dance around the May-pole, participated in by Mrs. Simons as queen, and twenty-six pupils, was the most striking feature, the handsome costumes and graceful movements of the dancers causing many complimentary remarks. Other features were the firemen's dance and the "Montebello quadrille." both of which are new in this city, neither figure having been introduced successfully before.

Fire at the County Hospital.
At 8:55 o'clock on Thursday night a serious outbreak of fire occurred at the County Hospital. The blaze was discovered by one of the patients, who with admirable presence of mind, at once notified the superintendent, Dr. Brainerd, without alarming the other patients. A brigade was immediately organized from the employes and a few male patients, and three lines of hose were played on the flames in short order. The fire, which originated through a defect in the kitchen flue, was confined to the dfining-room and kitchen, but over $200 worth of damage was done before the blaze was extinguished. tified the superintendent, Dr. Brainerd, interesting case from Vernon yesterday. A few days ago a couple of Chinamen entered the Police Court and swore to complaints charging R. Abila and S. Peck with battery. Testimony was introduced yesterday showing that the Chinamen have a vegetable ranch near Abila and Peck's place, and to save a long walk the heathens have been in Abila and Peck's place, and to save a long walk the, heathens have been in the habit of going through their neighbors' land. The white men objected to this and have warned the Chinamen to keep away, but the gardeners refused to pay any attention to the warning. Abila and Peck went to them one evening and proceeded to give the Chinamen a sound thrashing. One of the Chinamen was so badly beaten up that he had to be carried home and could not leave his bed for several days. The case will be decided today.

R. H. Hunter, the tamale man, who was arrested on complaint of a couple of girls who claimed that he pocketed a $5 piece that one of the girls gave him by mistake, thinking it was a nickel, was tried by Police Justice Owens yesterday and discharged.

EX-REV. ELLIS.

The San Francisco Chronicle of

Thursday gives the following account of the opening of the Ellis damage suit in that city:

in that city:

Two clergymen met in Judge Wallace's court yesterday, glared savagely at each other, and falled to speak as they passed by. They were Rev. Thomas 'Chalmers Easton and Rev. John W. Ellis. When the Sidney Bell case was on for hearing a few weeks ago Dr. Ellis found much joy in witnessing the misery ef. Dr. Easton, and now Dr. Easton is on deck to assist in making Dr. Ellis unhappy.

The case that wow engages the attention of the clerical enemies is the suit of Dr. Ellis against the Presbytery of San Francisco for $100,000 damages. Er. Ellis was dismissed from the pastorate of the Central Presbyterian Tabernacie, he having been charged with misappropriation of church funds, deception and falsehood. He now claims that the accusation was the result of a conspiracy to ruin him, and that Hugh Fraser, Henry Hufschmidt, Dr. Leston and Alexander Kerr were the conspirators,

In his opening statement for Dr. Ellis his that Hugh Fraser, Henry Hufschmidt, Dr. Easton and Alexander Kerr were the conspirators,

In his opening statement for Dr. Ellis his attorney, W. W. Allen, said he would prove that Hufschmidt and Fraser were not rightfully members of the Presbytery and could not have participated in the deliberations of that body except by fraud. He would also show that the defendants were Scotch, Irish and German, that they were of excitable temperament, accustomed to dissension and strife and that the Presbytery had a bad record for contention and discord. He would also show that the church was in a dilapidated condition when Dr. Ellis assumed charge of it and that a number of its members carried insect powder to protect them from the fleas that infested the editice. Dr. Ellis, the lawyer said, had repaired the church with the money given him and had accounted for every cent.

[Attorney J.B. Mhoon, for the Presbytery, said that Dr. Ellis had submitted a statement showing the church to be $500 in debt, that the statement contained false items and that Dr. Ellis had received money for which he readered no account.

Dr. Ellis testified that when he assumed the pastorate the tabernacle was $20,000 in debt and badly out of repair. It had only about seventy-five members. On his recommendation a second mortgage for $3800 was placed on the church and the repairs cost $4451.88, leaving a deficit of reccommendation a second mortgage for $3800 was placed on the church and the repairs cost $4451.88, leaving a deficit of $651.88. The charges that caused Dr. Ellis' dismissal from the church were placed in evidence, as were also his commission to the pastorate and a letter he wrote to the trustees explaining how the money had been expended.

SICK

Sick-headaches are the outward indications of derangements of the stomach and bowels. As Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, is the only bowel regulating preparation of Sarsaparilla, it is seen why it is the only appropriate Sarsaparilla in sick-headaches. It is not only appropriate; it is an absolute cure. After a course of it an occa-sional dose at intervals will forever after prevent return.

Jno. M. Cox, of 735 Turk Street, San Francisco writes: "I have been troubled with attacks of sick-headache for the last three years from one to three times a week. Some time ago I bought two bottles of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla and have only had one attack since and that was on the second day after I began using it."

After suffering for years with stomach trouble I was at last induced to try Dr. Wong Him, of No. 689 Upper Main street. Los Angeles. He examined me and pronounced my trouble tumor in the stomach. After two months' treatment, during which time I felt greatly relieved and benefited, he pronounced me entirely cured, and from that time to the present, which is four months, I have not felt the least return of my old trouble. I am able to eat many things which formerly would distress me very much. Therefore I feel that I can do nothing else than to recommend the doctor to all who can be induced to try him. I hereby extend him my most heartfelt thanks of the property of

THE EMPEROR'S HAREM.

189 Unfortunates Held Captive in the Palace at Pekin." "189 Unfortunates Held Captive in the Palace at Pekin."

The "Palace of Earth's Repose" is where the Empress of China bolds her court and rules over the imperial harem, whose only glimpse of the outside world is what they can see in the imperial flower-garden. The present young emperor, in addition to his seven lawful concubines, has already no less than one hundred and thirty others in his harem.—H O'Shea's article, in the Illustrated American. Such is the life of the most highly favored of Chinese women-prisoners within the palace walls they eke out an existence in real slavery. American women know no slavery but that which depends on themselves. Sometimes they are overworked, "run-down," weak and allingthen is the time to turn to the right medicine. The one who takes Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription emancipates herself from her weakness and becomes a stronger and a happier woman—more than that—a healthy one. For all the weaknesses and alliments peculiar to womanhood, "Favorite Prescription" is a positive remedy. And because it's a certain remedy, it's made a guaranteed one. If it fails to benefit or cure, in any case, you get your money back. Can you ask more!

THE NOTICEOF THE PUBLIC IS CALLED

To the fact that this bank has the largest paid-up capital and surplus combined of any savings bank in Southern California, and only loans money on approved real-estate security, that among its stockholders are some of the oldest and most responsible citizens of the community; that under the State law the private estates of its stockholders are pro rata, liable for the total indebtedness of the bank. These facts, with care exercised in making loans, insure a safe depository for saving accounts. School teachers, clerks mechanics, employes in factories and shops, laborers, etc., will find it convenient to make deposits in small amounts. CHILDREN'S SAVINGS DEPOSITS received in sums of 6 cents and upward. Remittances may be sent by draft or Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express.
